During a period of thirteen years, Kingsbury has become the largest school having grades seven through twelve in the city of Memphis.

When the school was established in 1950, it included grades one through six with 250 students and nine faculty members.

Today Kingsbury is a junior and senior high school with an enrollment of 2700 students and a faculty of 105 members.

Lennessee's educational system expresses individual student progression through the efforts of its teachers and administrators to impress upon the student not only the importance of scholarship but also the significance of his debt to society as an intrinsic part of his personal integrity.

Today the effects of the efforts by the educators of Tennessee may be seen as students in striving to perfect useful minds also strive to develop sound characters through their consideration for others and truthfulness to themselves.

As a tribute to those persons who have contributed to the progress of education in our state, we dedicate this pictorial account of Kingsbury High School during 1962-63 to the past, the present, and the future educators of Tennessee.

This we pledge . . .

We, the students of Kingsbury High School, pledge to preserve throughout our lives the strong principles of self-betterment which have been instilled in as by the faculty and administration; to employ and to strengthen our education in such a manner that it will be of the most value to ourselves and to our fellowmen; to promote among our posterity the desire for attainment of that substance which enriches the lives of all men who secure it – knowledge.

Mr John M. Crothers, who has been principal at Kingsbury for eleven years, received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from George Peabody College.

Having received her A.B. degree from Southwestern and her M.S.S. degree from the University of Mississippi, Miss Thelma Nichols is in her third year as assistant principal.

Some of the most essential people in our second re the secretaries. It is their response to the precord cards up to date, publish daily bulletins and absented lists, and efficiently run two offices. Left to right are Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Prieur, and Mrs. Rigsby.

Kingsbury's two cafeterias serve approximately 1850 students each day. Well balanced meals expertly cooked are always the first concern of managers Mrs. Cossey and Mrs. Klouse, Our cafeterias' specialty is homemade breads and pastry.

Mr. Pegram and Mr. Dunning, chief custodians, deserve a great deal of credit for keeping our school in such fine condition. After an unannounced inspection by the Board of Education, our school was given a top citation.

Guidance counselors are always ready to discuss our current problems, help us make decisions, and aid us in understanding more about ourselves. They encourage each student to engage in lifelong planning, and they help us make plans to achieve it.

Kingsbury's guidance department has assisted many seniors in decisions concerning careers and higher education. This year a third member. Mr. Wade, was added to the guidance staff. Mr. Wicker serves as chairman of the guidance department.

Mr. Wicker, a guidance counselor, discusses with Joe Hurt which career field to enter.

Courses to prepare students for college have been added to the curriculum at Kingsbury. These courses give the college-bound student an insight of what college will be like.

The college-prep English classes study more literature on a more advanced level. Composition in greater detail is stressed.

Advanced math deals with the study of analytical geometry and advanced algebra. The course gives the students a better background for college math.

A course dealing with basic principles, physics is the study of mechanical science, including electricity and nuclear energy.

Drafting prepares the engineering-minded student for the advanced studies he will encounter later.

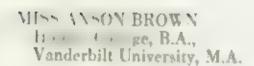

Mrs. Long's college prep English class finds pictures of Elizabethan England informative in its study of English literature. Carolyn Smith assists in posting scenes on the bulletin board.

MRS. GWEN BIRD Lambuth College, B.A.

English is a subject required of everyone in every grade. Some of the goals are to develop good writing and speech habits and an appreciation of good literature.

In the last few years word study has been stressed; thus vocabulary enrichment, more use of the dictionary, and improved spelling have resulted.

More time is now devoted to the reading of books, to the study of authors, and to a more concentrated study of grammar. The English departments are under the direction of Mrs. McInnis and Mrs. Cohn.

In answer to increased demand for capable persons in the greatly expanded fields of scientific and research programs, high schools are putting more emphasis on their science offerings.

Kingsbury is strengthening its science program each year to give students better basic background. Headed by Mrs. Savage and Mr. Hawkins, the department of science includes courses in general science, biology, chemistry, and physics.

A year of biology provides experience in animal dissection and use of the microscope. Both chemistry and physics provide excellent laboratory training

Sponsored by the science department, the annual Science Fair has become a large attraction each spring. All grades participate in exhibits displayed in the new gym. The winners from our fair display their exhibits in the county wide fair held at Memphis State University.

Language

Foreign languages help promote interest of the students in other countries. Throughout the world people are constantly coming in contact with each other. One factor which is a key to the increasing harmony among countries is the knowledge and understanding of foreign languages.

Being the newest language at Kingsbury, French is taught by a new method. The students are learning with the aid of records and tape recordings. The laboratory equipment has proved quite successful thus far.

• Through Spanish, as in the other languages at Kingsbury, the students are taught more about the people and country and customs. Learning the language is a basic way to learn more about the people. Chairman of the modern language section is Mrs. Grantham.

An annual fair and banquet is celebrated by the Latin department. This phase of study shows how the language has continued to be spoken and used in many ways today. Miss Acree is chairman of the Latin section.

Along with the other schools of the state, Kingsbury has been carrying out the physical fitness program in the physical education department under the guidance of its chairman, Mr. Brock.

The program includes body development, better muscle coordination, personal health studies, and first aid.

Among the activities recommended are volleyball, basketball, baseball, tumbling, and folk dancing. Students are encouraged to develop skills and to learn the true meaning of cooperation, mental alertness, and recreation.

Headed by a fine group of officers selected by all the students, the Student Council works to promote cooperation between the faculty and the student body. Probably more active than ever before, the Student Council has engaged in a number of new projects this year.

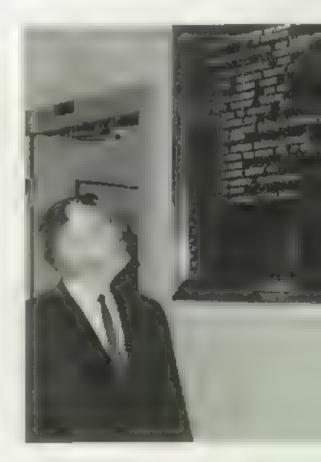

Monitors, who supervise "traffic" is the half and lunchroom throughout the day, are a division of the Student Council this year. A monitor can be easily spotted by the bright red badge he wears.

One of the largest jobs for which this organization is responsible is the conducting of assembly programs. This involves arranging for guest speakers and special student productions. Programs this year have included a live telephone message from Colonel John Glenn, a gymnastic show by Freed-Harden an College students, and a police dog demonstration by the Vemplis Police Force.

Rating high on the group's list of activities has been the seeking of an American Field Service exchange student for Kingsbury. Another project was the securing of a glass enclosed bulletin board which is used to make known school activities.

Band

With profits made from the annual band candy sale, which was a tremendous success this year, the music makers were able to finance their spring trip. Destination this year was Hot Springs, Arkansas. Ridiculous Night, an annual event sponsored by the band, was a howling success.

February found many players at the Solo and Ensemble Contest. From this affair, held at Memphis State University this year, many members of the band left with medals galore. Spring brought the annual band concert at which the identity of the new band queen is revealed. Final performance of the year for the band is at graduation, where it contributes the familiar refrains of "Pomp and Circumstance."

Each spring all band classes nominate candidates for Band Queen. Candidates must be girls in the Senior Band. At the spring concert every person attending votes for the candidate he deems most worthy of this honor.

Last spring Roberta Tamble was crowned Band Queen in the climax of the spring concert. She was formally presented to the student body during a ceremony at the half-time of a football game at the Fairgrounds. Escorted by band president Jimmy Ray, she received a bouquet of roses as the band saluted her. Roberta has reigned over all 1963 band activities.

TALON Staff

MRS. LONG, Advisor

As the 1963 TALON Staff strove to produce a yearbook for an ever growing Kingsbury High School, they sometimes wondered if their work would ever be finished. Members of the staff spent many late hours arranging layouts, cropping pictures, and typing copy.

A new program was initiated this year which called for all members of the staff to sell ads. This arrangement resulted in a larger amount of money for the publishing of the book. Another fund-raising step was the addition of twenty-five cents to the price of the yearbook. This year's TALON is expected to be one of the largest high school books produced in Tennessee.

At Christmas the TALON staff enjoyed a party. In the spring the annual staff banquet was given at which time the staff positions for the 1964 book were announced.

STAR Staff

An accurate and detailed account of school events, gossip, and sports activities, the Kingsbury Star, is published each six weeks. Providing students with entertaining and engrossing articles ranging in subject from basketball championship to alumni news, the SLAR is made possible through the energetic efforts of Kingsbury's reliable newspaper staff. This year an extra edition was published during the basketball season to inform students of the latest midwinter activities.

Throughout the year the staff attends journalism conventions which aid them in the editing of the paper. At these meetings they not only receive oratories on journalism, but they are often greeted by world-wide celebrities. On one occasion, this year, it was their good fortune to meet Cliff Richards, a British singer, on tour of the United States.

To round out their year, the staff always has a banquet at which the staff for the next year is announced.

Honor Society

Character, service, leadership, and scholarship—these are the qualities which characterize a member of the Honor Society. As the leaders of the school, the members of this organization are pledged to "uphold the high standards of the National Honor Society."

This year the society has undertaken several projects of various types. To raise money for the induction service and for the scholarship fund, members sold maroon and white tassel pins in the fall. At Christmas they sponsored a mistletoe sale. For the spring their project was the selling of school pennants.

Several members of the Honor Society have participated in the tutoring program which was initiated this year. Through this system students who are having difficulty in certain areas of study and who desire help are tutored by members in the mornings before school.

Carol Kimmons and Rita Wright persuade Mike Head and Betty Wells to buy pennants to benefit the Hono Society.

When Christmas time came, members donned colorful berets and visited the Shelby County Hospital where they sang carols in French to the old folk.

Pet project for the year has been a drive to secure an American Field Service foreign student to attend Kingsbury next year. Mrs. Williams, advisor of the French Club, is a member of the city-wide committee which is attempting to initiate the American Field Service program in Memphis.

Coaches Richards, Lewis, Brock, and Todd discuss a previous game.

BOBBY SHELTON Senior End

Coming back the following week, the Falcons gave Tech the battle of a lifetime. Joe Gonyaw set up the first touchdown on a twelve-yard end sweep. Larry Shaffer then took over for the tally. The final score was 32-6.

Kingsbury didn't do as well against their next two opponents, losing to East 14-12 and to CBHS 20-0. However, this losing streak changed against Westside with the Falcons coming out on top 19-7.

Messick was the opponent for the Homecoming game and was the victor 21-7.

For eleven seniors the last game of their high school career was played against Humes. The determined Falcons pushed their way down the field for a score. In the third quarter Burk Goodwin kicked a field goal to put Kingsbury ahead 9-7, for the final score.

ompleting their most successful season in the history he school, the Falcon basketball team had a record of wins and 2 losses. They won the Eastern Division and Frayser 54-49 in the game for the city championship. Falcons were one of the highest ranked teams in the e, at one time being voted in second place by the Assorted Press.

There were six pre-season games with Kingsbury the victor in all of them.

White Station was the first game in league play, with the Falcons coming out on top 42-30. The next victim was East, who succumbed 82-47.

Mike Butler, considered by some sports authorities as the best guard in the Mid South sets up two points

That weekend the team traveled to Nashville to play the rated Franklin and beat-them 73-58. The following ek the Falcons played Overton, who was rated first in state at that time. The Falcons scored quickly and led plane all the way except once in the third quarter. It is score was Kingsbury 62. Overton 55

The next game was with arch rival Treadwell. Kings rv was the victor 68-62. Christian Brothers High School Messick were the opponents the following week. The re in the CBHS game was 54-40, while the Messick me ended 54-40.

During the Christmas holidays, Kingsbury played in Knights of Columbus Tournament at C.B.C. The Falus beat South Fulton and Memphis Central but lost to eadwell for the first defeat of the season

Fresh from the Christmas holidays, Kingsbury beat Frezevant 131-24, setting an all time high scoring record That same week the Falcons beat the Warriors from Central 68-61. The next week the Falcons flew over Catholic 82-41 and South Side 55-33

Humes was the next opponent, with the score being 89-48 our favor. Against West Side the Falcons broke the century mark the second time, beating them 101-48. That Friday night the Falcons triumphed over Frayser, the leaders of the Western Division, 64-60. It was only the second time the Rams had been defeated in their own gym in two years

In the following game with White Station the Spartans tried to freeze the ball, but the Falcons pressed on to win 67-14. Messick score 69-59.

Alfred Stapp goes high in the air for the jump ball.

In the most exciting game in the history of Kingsbury, the Falcons played Frayser for the City Championship before a capacity crowd at Memphis State Field House.

After winning the Eastern Division Championship the Falcons played Frayser, Western Division Champions. Frayser led the scoring for the first two quarters and for part of the third. Near the end of the third quarter the Falcons pulled ahead and commanded the scoring for the rest of the game, winning 55 to 49.

Joe Hurt fights for a rebound as Alfred Stapp waits for a chance at the ball.

Leading the statent body at sporting events this year were the high school cheerleader Donna to cally Smith, Co-Captoin Susan Krauch, Shetry Owens, Vera Bullar Captain Pat Pope, Kave Williams, Linua Clemens, Carot Eisenbrox

Much of the success of the teams this year must be accredited to the nine enthusiastic Falcon cheerleaders. They have led the student body at games during the football and basketball seasons. Promoting school spirit at the pep rallies, the cheerleaders created interesting skits, as well as songs for the coming games.

Cheerleaders practice at least once a week. They supervise poster making for all the games.

Junior Band

laving a musical instrument has been a new experie for many of the Junior Band members, but this up has succeeded in making a name of its own Wath excellent guidance of Mr. Goldsmith and the talent determination of the band members, this has been an outstanding year for the Junior Band.

Their long hours of work were rewarded when they played in the Cotton Carnival parade and when they marched down the field in the halftime activities of the Junior Homecoming football game.

Junior Majorettes

With high steps and smiling faces, the Junior Majorettes perform at football games and parades.

Their gay personalities have entertained the cheering crowds at football games with their outstanding half-time performances. Marching in the Cotton Carnival Parade is one feature of their year.

Raymond Bell delights the audience as "Pinochio" in a musical program given by the Junior High Singers.

"I, magne male lupe," cries Little Red Riding Hood, Carol Gainer, fleeing from the big, bad wolf, Ronnie Koon, in a skit presented by the Latin Club.

Sampling refreshments at a tea given by the F.H.A. are Linda Campbell, Barbara Gutelius, and Janet Hill.

Linda Wallace, Winslow Ward, and Ricky Harbor learn the art of "togetherness."

Sports

E-corted by David Mattin, Jeanne Bright happily be ins her reign as Junior High football queen.

dates for Junior High football queen were Tyrene Richardson, Sherry, Thea Gregory, Jeanne Bright, and Sharon Shelton.

Excitement filled the air. Cheering crowds eagerly anticipated the announcement of the winner. Jeanne Bright will never forget the afternoon she was crowned Junior High football queen of 1962-63.

Tears of joy filled Jeanne's eyes as Vera Bullard, last year's queen, placed the crown on her head.

Tyrene Richardson, Sherry Bright, Thea Gregory, and Sharon Shelton are the maids of the 1962-63 football royalty.

Football

"Falcons fly to victory" was the foremost thought of the Junior football players of the 1962-63 season. With the guidance of Coach Wyatt, the boys fought to give the team a name of its own. Highlighting the season was the victory over Treadwell with a score of 7 to 0.

Several losses are shown on the season's record, but it also shows a definite improvement. Interested spectators enjoyed the exciting games of a hard-working team.

Physical education teachers throughout the city and the physical education department of Memphis State University sponsor the annual city school Sports Day, held at Memphis State. Kingsbury's eighth and ninth grade volleyball teams participated in the double eliminations. In the finals, in the losers' bracket, the eighth grade team defeated Sherwood 15-9 and went on to win over Georgian Hills 11-5 and 13-5 in finals of the winners' bracket.

In competition with 41 city schools, Kingsbury received two of the three first place trophies to be awarded.

Their record is certain to be a goal for future Kingsbury teams.

Most Americans do value education as a business asset, but not as the entrance into the joy of intellectual experience or acquaintance with the best that has been said and done in the past. They value it not as an experience, but as a tool.

KINGSBURY P.T.A.

This ceremonious occasion, which was held in observance of Arbor Week, was carried out by students, the faculty, and the Parent Teacher Association. As all good things must have an equally worthy dedication, the planting of the tree was offered in tribute to the late Mr. Marquis L. McInnis, who was a member of the faculty before his death.

In Memoriam

Well-liked by his fellow students at Kingsbury, Ronnie, a seventh grader died in an accident this spring. Although he experienced junior high school only a short time, Ronnie proved to be an outstanding student.

Linda, well-liked not only by juniors but by all students at Kingsbury, died of leukemia February 20 of this year. Although Linda was ill most of the school year, she participated in many school activities.

Kingsbury lost one of its most popular seniors in a tragic accident February 4 of this year. Russy, as he was known to his friends, was active in all phases of school life.
